The state mining bureau and the

City Council On Record As Endorsing Half Fare for School Children.

Ten Oakland city council, at the request of the mayor, today adopted a resolution urging all Alameda county legislators to assist in the passage of the Saylor bill, which compels half fares for school children on street cars.
At the request of Commissioner Frank Colbourn, the council then passed to print an ordinance creating twenty additional positions of patrolmen on the police force, as well as two inspectors and two assistant inspectors. An extra sergeant was to have been created, but it was decided to save this salary for the present.
The council awarded to George H. Renner the contract for building the fender line along a portion of the estuary bulkhead wall.
Mayor Davis, in calling the attention of the council to the half fare project, asserted that the street car companies grant half fares as a charity and said there was no way to compel them to grant half fares to school children except when the traction companies decide to do it at their own will, such as in the cases of Richmond and Alameda.

AS LAW VIOLATOR

mittee to Senate.

the exportation of petroleum and its products for which there is pressing demand in the United States.

Institution of grand jury proceedings under Federal or state laws wherever price manipulation is attempted.

Investigation of any "implied" or expressed agreement or contract to fix prices arbitrarily or to restrain trade and, if facts warrant, citation of parties to the agreement for contempt of the Supreme Court dissolution decrees.

Inquiry by the Department of Justice into all claims for basic patents on pressure-still processes used in the production of gasoline.

The report declared further that
"the suggestions here made of certain remedies do not imply that other and more drastic ones may not later be found necessary."

LA FOLLETTE'S FORMER PARTNER IS ADVISER

The investigation was in charge of a sub-committee of the Senate Manufacturers' Committee, headed by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and composed, in addition, of Senators McNary (Oregon) and Brookhart (Iowa), Republican, and Smith (South Carolina) and Jones (New Mexico), Democrat. Most of the testimony, however, was received at committee sessions attended only by Senators La Follette and Brookhart and the committee attorney, Gilbert E. Roe of New York, a former law partner of Senator La Follette.

"The dominating fact in the oil industry today is its complete control by the Standard Company," the report contended. "Any discussion of the subject which does not frankly recognize this control can be only misleading. . . . The Standard Oil group divides among the members of that group all the territory of the United States and with slight exceptions, avoids all competition with other members of the group in the business of retailing gasoline and kerosene. Not only this, but two of the leading Standard companies—New Jersey and New York—divide the world between themselves in marketing operations and each carefully abstains from entering the territory of the other, while both refrain from competing with the Anglo-American Oil Company, Limited (one of the original Standard group) in the retail trade in the British Isles.

PIPE LINE CONTROL
AIDS PRICE-FIXING.

"Through the Standard control of the pipe lines connecting the producing centers of the West with the consuming centers of the East and Middle West, not only is the price fixed according to the will of the Standard group which any other interest must pay for the transportation of petroleum, but members of the group really determine whether any concern outside their group shall have petroleum transported at any price.

"Whatever competition has existed between the standard companies and the so-called independents since the decree of dissolution in 1911 has not been the result of that decree, but has been the result of the discovery in the United States and Mexico of new oil fields, largely through adventurous independent operators, which fields, in many instances as soon as proven, have by various methods been brought under the control of the Standard interests.
When the time comes, as it is certain to come in the near future, that there are no more oil fields to discover and exploit in this country, this competition, such as it is, will necessarily disappear."

"Discussing inter-locking stock ownership, the report asserted the present holdings of the Rockefeller group in the various Standard companies, "while representing only a minority of the stock of each company, are nevertheless so substantial as to assure effective control of the policies of those companies by the group in ques-

PRICE OF CRUDE
ABSOLUTELY CONTROLLED.

Taking up the subject of prices of crude oil, the report declared it to be obvious that the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, which is half owned by the Standard of Indiana, and the Prairie Oil and Gas company, a Standard company, absolutely fixed the prices of crude oil in the mid-continent field from January, 1920, to last November. It was further said by the vicious from figures presented "that not the law of supply and demand, but arbitrary manipulation, brought about the price changes in question." The effect of these price changes, the report continued,

"were disastrous alike for the small independent producer and refiner and for the public as well."

The investigation conducted by the committee, the report said, established these facts regarding the retail prices of gasoline and kerosene:
"First, the Standard companies fix those prices throughout the country, and such prices in contiguous territory between the different Standard companies vary all the way from one to three cents a gallon for gasoline.

"Second, the companies of the Standard group co-operate with each other, where such co-operation seems desirable or necessary, in order to meet the competition of independents.
"Third, while there is some correspondence between the cost of crude and prices of refined products, the prices of the refined product is far more apt to be kept abreast of the changes in the price of crude oil on a rising market than it is on a falling market."

With respect to pipe lines, the report said that while they "were declared by law to be common carriers many years ago, no steps have been taken to make them common carriers in fact."

Criticism is expressed by the report on closing in the leasing by the Department of the Interior of oil reserves, the assertion being made that the reserves "should have been held in sacred trust for the benefit of the whole people."

Stewart Declares
Report Is Unfair

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, said in a statement issued here last night that, in his opinion, the report of the La Follette Oil Investigating Committee was unfair to his company and to the oil industry generally.

The Standard of Indiana, Mr.
Stewart declared, not only exercises no monopoly, but has no understanding or arrangement of any character with any of the other Standard interests. He also asserted that the investigation had been so conducted as to deprive the Standard of Indiana of all opportunity to lay its case before the public.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Walter
C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, last night issued the following statement in reference to the charges of the La Follette oil investigating committee:

"To any one who has followed the proceedings before the subcommittee, it is obvious that the whole inquiry and the resulting report are based upon the pre-conceived notion, assumed without proof, that there still exists among the various so-called Standard Oil companies, in defiance of the dis-

the American petroleum industry, to which the Standard Oil com-freight rates have been brought about through alleged control by the Standard companies, he said:

BERKELEY PLANS EDUCATION ON NEW VOTE PLAN

Campaign Will Be Conducted to Instruct Voters in System.

BERKELEY, March 5.—Between now and May 1, when Berkeley holds its first election under the recently adopted preferential voting plan, a campaign of education will be carried on to inform voters of the new system. The city council has appropriated the sum of $100 to help meet the expenses of the educational campaign. Slides will be made for motion picture theaters and lecturers will explain the system before various clubs and civic bodies. Sample ballots will be printed to be distributed to the electorates explaining in detail how candidates are to be voted upon.

Following are the instructions which will appear on the ballots to be sent to all voters of the city: "Put the figure 1 opposite the name of your first choice for each office to be filled. If you want to express also second choices, do so by putting the figure 2 opposite the name of your second choice for each office to be filled. In this way you may express as many as two choices. When you express second choices you are sure to make your ballot count for one of the candidates you favor.

"This ballot will not be counted for your second choice, unless it is found that it cannot help your second choice. A ballot is spoiled if the figure 1 or the figure 2 is put opposite more names than the number of persons to be elected to a particular office. If you spoil this ballot tear it across once, return it to the election officer in charge of the ballots and obtain another."

McNary Refuses Controller's Office

WASHINGTON, March 5.—James G. McNary, of New Mexico, whose nomination for Controller of the Currency failed of confirmation by the Senate, was offered a recess appointment to the place today by President Harding, but replied that he could not accept.

Afterward, it was announced that D. R. Crissinger, the present controller, would continue in that office for the present, despite the fact that he had been nominated and confirmed for governor of the federal reserve board.

It was made known also that Harding had decided not to withhold longer the commission of Milo D. Campbell of Michigan as the "dirt farmer," member of the reserve board. Although confirmed several weeks ago, the president had refrained from signing his commission pending a Senate decision on the McNary nomination.

President Harding today gave recess appointments to Elmer S. Landes of Ohio, Republican, and Merton L. Corey, of Nebraska, Democrat, as directors of the federal farm loan board.

Drama Society At University to Give "Dulcy"

MISS BERNICE BERWIN, who will have leading role in comedy success to be presented by college players in Wheeler Hall.

Baldwin McGaw to Direct Little Theater Production of Farce.

BERKELEY, March 5.—The Mask and Dagger Society, dramatic organization of University of California students, will present as its only production of the semester Marc Connelly's and George Kaufman's farce-comedy, "Dulcy." The play will be given under the direction of Baldwin McGaw, director of the Little Theater at the university, and will be offered as a Little Theater attraction next Friday and Saturday nights in Wheeler Hall.

"Dulcinea," the character from whom the play takes its name, is described as an "adorable bit of femininity" who tries to help her husband in his business but makes a badly muddled situation for all concerned. The same "adorable" traits, however, are used by the young heroine to bring matters to a happy ending. As "Dulcy" will be seen Miss Bernice Berwin, star of other college productions. Miss Rose Brown, well known in campus circles, will be seen in important roles, while John Almanus, president of Mask and Dagger, will have the role of the husband in the play.

CARMEN'S UNION PLANS CARNIVAL

Plans for an elaborate indoor Mardi Gras and circus to open March 10 were announced today by the local Carmen's union. The circus will be held at Shrine temple for ten days and the funds will be used to entertain the 1000 or more delegates to the convention of the International Carmen's Union to be held in Oakland next September.

The program for the affair is to consist of a regular circus with professional acts, dancing, music, Mardi Gras features and other acts for the entertainment of the of the crowd.

Plans are under way for a contest for the selection of a queen to preside over the affair. Names of candidates and the prizes to be offered will be announced in the near future.

ROBBERIES, RAIDS MARK WILD NIGHT.

ESSEN, March 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Essen experienced the wildest Saturday night since the beginning of the occupation and in the early Sunday morning hours food stores were looted and others broken into by armed mobs, said to be composed of the unemployed.

One of the largest cabarets, the Trocadero, was held up and several hundred patrons were robbed of all their cash. This robbery was carried out by 15 or 20 men, whom the Germans declared were communists who had taken advantage of the expulsion of the security police, which force has not yet been adequately replaced by municipal police.

This city is virtually without police protection at present and many of the citizens, in fear of further robberies or violence by hands in the streets, are arming themselves as best they can for their own protection.

NON-WORKERS' RANKS ARE INCREASED.

ESSEN, March 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The number of non-workers has been increased by the vacations with full pay given them by the mine owners for March and April. The French say they have information that the vacations have been given the men in order to reduce the coal production to that required for the Ruhr industries and local domestic purposes alone.

These vacations with full pay will bring coal production down to 15 or 20 per cent of normal.

BERLIN, March 5.—(By International News Service.)—Germany's decision not to conduct any reparations negotiations with France and Belgium, nor to make any payments of any kind during military occupation of the Ruhr, was formally put into effect today. However, negotiations are in progress with Italy, who did not send any troops to assist the Franco-Belgian forces in their new territorial seizures.

Disorders Break Up Protest Meeting

NEW YORK, March 5.—Disorder and confusion broke up a meeting to protest the French occupation of the Ruhr at the Community church last night before resolutions could be adopted to be sent to President Harding and Congress.

Headlines demanded the messages be sent to Senator Borah, and while a heated debate began between several members of opposing factions, the audience left the building.

Oakland Citizen Kidnaped by His Own Motorcycle

Time has penciled many strange stories of kidnaping in the Oakland police records, but perhaps the strangest of all is that which has just been concluded, the kidnaping of a man by a motorcycle.

Oakland police set their intricate man-hunt machinery in motion Saturday night when the disappearance under peculiar circumstances of Louis Martinetti, 555 Twenty-first street, was reported. Last night, Martinetti had recovered sufficiently from his experience to report to the police and explain the strange incident.

Possessed of an inordinate desire to have and ride a red, snorting motorcycle, Martinetti purchased one Saturday afternoon. After a brief course of instruction, he headed his charge down the beckoning highways.

Disaster followed close in his dust, however, for he had gone only as far as Cutting avenue, Richmond, when the realization struck him that he had not learned how to stop his headstrong mount. Traffic and the vented him from turning around, so he had to keep going. By taking the Franklin Canyon road, he circled through Martinez, and fortunately struck the Bay Shore road toward home.

At Albany, his charger coughed and laid down under him. At midnight, Martinetti arrived at his home, trundling his machine beside him.

BERKELEY YOUTH IN HIGH SCHOOL WILL GIVE PLAY

Rehearsals Under Way for Vaudeville to Be Put On Friday.

BERKELEY, March 5.—The most versatile vaudeville show ever planned by Berkeley High School students will be held Friday and Saturday evenings in the school auditorium.

Rehearsals of many novel acts planned for the event are now under way. Prominent among the numbers and coming as the climax of the program will be a musical skit, "The Broadway Bubble," written and directed by Hortense Covert, talented pupil at the high school. Dance numbers will feature the skit, including a novel chorus feature in which dolls of all kinds, from the demure rag baby to the pert flapper, will make their appearance.

A chorus of high school maids in sports costume will be another feature. Among the dancers in this group will be the young author herself and the Misses Isabel Lovell and Rena Sandow.

Funds from the vaudeville show, which is given semi-annually by the students, will be used to aid activities at the school.

RESIDENTS FIGHT STORE INVASION

BERKELEY, March 5.—To protest the invasion of their exclusive residential area by stores, a mass meeting of residents in the vicinity of College and Alcatraz avenues has been called for tonight at the home of F. A. Kaufman, 319 Alcatraz avenue. Kaufman has just completed a $40,000 home opposite the corner at Alcatraz and College avenues recently re-classified by the council to allow the erection of a store building.

Tonight's meeting is called by Frank Benevise, proprietor of the Pacific Rural Press and president of the recently organized College Avenue Protective Association.

A new hearing on the matter of re-classification was set for tomorrow's council meeting, but has been postponed until March 15. It is urged that apartments, not stores, be constructed on the corner in question.

PIANO PRODIGY'S COMING DELAYED

Postponement until March 31 of the first appearance in Oakland of the pianist prodigy, Mischel Levitski, was announced today by Miss Lulu J. Blumberg, Eastbay representative of Miss Jessie Collett in the management of her series of artists' concerts. Circumstances made necessary a change in the booking, Miss Blumberg explained. Levitski had originally been scheduled to appear here March 12.

COUNTY PROBLEMS, TOPIC. "The Problems of Alameda County" will be the special subject of a talk by W. J. Hamilton, chairman of the board of supervisors of Alameda county, at a luncheon tomorrow of the Merchants' Exchange in the Hotel Oakland, according to an announcement of E. H. Hart, secretary.

GIRL SLAYS MAN SAYING WOOLING WAS TOO ARDENT

Young Woman Confesses to Shooting Victim As Big Crowd Looks On.

DENVER, March 5.—A girl was shot and fatally wounded early this morning by Miss Bessie Thomas, 21 years old, who, according to police, confessed and declared that the shooting was the culmination of over-ardent wooling on the part of the slain man. Miss Thomas was arrested and confessed to the slaying with the remark, "I hope he dies," according to Police Captain George Lyon, who interrogated her.

The shooting occurred on the sidewalk in front of the hotel at 1935 Champa street, where the girl was rooming. A number of passersby witnessed the slaying. Cornish was 32 years old and the sole support of his aged mother.

King and Queen "Like Anybody" Over Grandchild

LONDON, March 5.—The harmless bromide that kings and queens are human, just like anybody else, was worked overtime in the days that followed the advent of Princess Mary's new horn son. People wondered whether King George and Queen prehension. Then came the news that the baby was born, and that it was a boy. "I am a grandfather," the King remarked. "But I am a father," said Lord Lascelles, and congratulations were exchanged. Then the Queen declared, "I am a grandmother."

And the next day baby talk was the language of the kingdom. The papers were chuck full of articles on baby clothes, baby diets, baby habits and baby pictures. For weeks they carried yards and yards of advertisements of baby carriages.

REE HELD AS HANDIIS, FOUND IN STOLEN CAR

F. Police Arrest Youths, Suspected of Robberies and Burglaries.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—A police car yesterday through a neighborhood which they are said to have operated, three suspects are held in the prison today while detectives endeavoring to connect them with a number of burglaries and robberies perpetrated in the Bay region recently.

Three under arrest are: John Condon, 19, 513 Fifteenth street; J. J. Burns, 17, 1880 Page street; and Edwin Eddy, 23, 985-A street.

They are said by police to be members of the gang of four bandits who terrorized the city Saturday night, and were booked at the prison on charges of robbery.

A specific charge against the youths is that of robbing Lee and Lee Fong, Chinese, in rooms at 913 Grant avenue, and Condon was identified by their victims, according to police. After the robbery, Burns, Burns and Condon jumped a waiting automobile which carried two other youths and away.

Walska to Sing With Russians In S. F. in 1924

CHICAGO, March 5.—Mrs. Ganna Walska, bride of Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the International Harvester Company, last night expressed a willingness to appear in two performances with the Russian opera company here between March 19 and March 18. Mrs. Walska also tentatively agreed to sing with the Russian company next season in eight cities, including New York, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The opera and the exact dates of the two performances have not been decided. Mrs. Walska will leave today on a short trip west, returning the latter part of the week. Her husband is now in California with his mother.

Mrs. Walska and the harvester magnate's first wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, shared society honors last night at the opera.

No Rabbits, No Races At San Pablo Grounds

Courtesy fans who journeyed to the San Pablo grounds yesterday were disappointed when the advertised meeting was called off because there were no rabbits for the hounds to chase. Fifteen machines loaded with dogs and owners headed for the Warm Springs course park and a special 16-dog stake was arranged for the benefit of the local men.

HARDING APPEALS FOR PUBLIC AID ON COURT STAND

President Indicates That He Will Soon Try to Gain
Favor of People.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Harding today asked the American people to support him in his efforts to secure American entrance into the Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague.

In a letter to Lieutenant Governor Boom of Ohio, in response to a resolution in the Ohio Assembly commending his stand for American participation in the court, the executive indicated that, during the recess in Congress, he intended to attempt to swing American public opinion overwhelmingly in favor of such a step.

"It is inconceivable to me that the American people, who have so long been devoted to this ideal, should refuse their adherence now to such a program as is represented by this tribunal," the president wrote.

"I feel that the adhesion of our country to the program and purposes of the International Court of Justice would represent a long and important step toward the assumption of those proper and entirely safe relationships to international affairs which should be borne by such a country as our own."

WOULD DOWN RULE OF FORCE.

"Those who are at this time invested with the direction of the international relations of our country are firmly convinced that the move not only would represent the wise policy of our own people, but it would be an emphatic testimony of our purpose to encourage every feasible project for establishing a rule of law as opposed to the rule of power in this world," he said.

President Harding gave assurance in his letter that there was no idea "of this government surrendering any of its control over its own fundamental rights."

"But we may be sure that our differences will always arise among individuals, and just as courts of justice and equity have been set up to determine issues as between individuals," the President said, "so it is probable and logical that provision should be made for a like adjudication of those differences between nations and peoples which may properly be committed to such determination."

FORWARD STEP INVOLVED.
"It looks to the settlement of the Court of International Justice, with the jurisdiction that has been given to it, as one of the greatest advances which world society has made toward conditions in which the rule of law may be substituted for the rule of force."

"It looks to the settlement of issues before they become dangerously acute; it contemplates the elimination of the causes of conflict and war. In feeling thus, I believe that our own country should be among the most devoted adherents of such a program."

Tobin Leaves S. F. To Take Envoy Post

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Richard M. Tobin, recently appointed United States Minister to the Netherlands, left here yesterday for Washington, where, it is understood, he has gone to confer with President Harding and state officials before leaving the United States for his new post.

For many years Tobin has been actively identified with the financial and social life of San Francisco.

Society

D. A. R. Stirs Society of Eastbay

With the Daughters of the American Revolution guests within in our gates, the week is rich with promise for interesting doings, a very definite worth-whileness to flavor the social hours that shall be given over from the deliberations of the convention.

The luncheon and reception on Tuesday at the Claremont Hotel by the Berkeley Chapters is one of the big episodes of the week, to be followed by a reception on Wednesday at the bayshore home in Alameda of Mrs. Robert Lewis Hill, the six Eastbay chapters to be the hosts. And the climax of the day will be a dinner at the Hill home for sixteen—officers and guests of the six chapters again serving as hostesses.

The reception on the afternoon will include delegates and their friends, besides members of the local chapters, Mrs. Hill being an interested member of the patriotic organization, but is serving as regent of the Copa de Oro Chapter of Alameda.

A program will be given throughout the afternoon, that will include some of the foremost artists about the bay.

The Hill gardens and tea house will furnish an interesting foyer for the reception.

WED. QUETLY, TO SAIL FOR AUSTRALIA.

In December came the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Grace Kummer and Vivian C. Williams of Sydney, Australia—a Victoria Cross man, hero of many a thrilling adventure with the Anzacs in the thick of the fight.

On the 12th, the announced fact of their marriage that will follow the arrival of Mr. Williams on the Tahiti, due on the 12th, and their departure on the ship when she sails on the 16th, for the Antipodes, the new home of the Oaklanders.

Although no cards have been sent out, news of the approaching nuptials has leaked—probably because of the honor of the bride since her return from Minneapolis, where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Moir.

The bride-elect will be the honor guest on Saturday of Mrs. Duncan Moir, of Mrs. Grace Broyles on Friday, of Mrs. M. E. Wright on Monday, Mrs. Harold Broderick on Tuesday, with a number of others to follow twice now and the 16th.

Miss Rosita Taliaferro of Berkeley, daughter of Benjamin W. Taliaferro of Berkeley, became the bride of William Henry Hudson of Charleston, S. C., on Wednesday at a simple home ceremony, the affair being a surprise to friends as no cards had gone forth to make the announcement.

Mrs. Audrey Beer Sorel, the well-known pianiste, who has recently returned from Europe, was the guest artist, at an elaborate musical and tea, given in the home of Mrs. Almer Newhall, San Rafael, Thursday, March 1.

Many well-known society and musical people enjoyed the delightful program.

The Claremont Country Club will be the setting for a large bridge affair on March 14, when Mrs. James Edward Higgins will entertain. Guests from both sides of the bay have been asked for the affair.

Miss Dorothy Blake has issued invitations for a card party for the afternoon of March 10. The honor guests will be Miss Alice Munn, who with her mother, Mrs. William Munn, and her sister, Miss Dorothy Munn, are leaving next month for a European tour.

Mrs. Arthur L. Foster of Hartford, Conn., announces the engagement of her daughter, Marjorie Hathaway Foster, to Lloyd William Garrison of Boone, Iowa.

Miss Foster's father, the late Arthur L. Foster of Hartford was one of the best known merchants of that city.

Miss Foster attended the Beechwood School at Philadelphia and graduated with a degree in music and expression in 1921. She is continuing her vocal study in Berkeley under the direction of William Edwin Chamberlaine.

Mr. Garrison is the twin son of Mrs. Henry L. Garrison of Boone, Iowa. After graduating from the Boone High School, he entered the class of 1921 at the University of Iowa. He is affiliated with the Iowa Chapter of Acadia Fraternity.

Mrs. Garrison and her two sons have made their home in Alameda for the past year. Mr. Garrison is associated with his uncle, Alfred Wolf, of Alameda.

Miss Foster and Mr. Garrison met at Lake Tahoe last summer and their wedding will take place in the early fall, the pair to motor East where they make their future home.

Schoolmates Will Bear Girl to Grave

Schoolmates will act as pall bearers at the funeral of Anna Elizabeth Cronin, 14-year-old Dewey school girl graduate, tomorrow morning. The service at the family residence, 1509 Forty-first avenue, will be followed by a religious high mass in St. Elizabeth's church. The pall bearers will be Marian Hansen, Margaret Paulsen, Norma Rarick, Vivian Chick, Florence Neto and Juanita Powell.

The young girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Cronin. Besides her parents, she is survived by three brothers, Stephen, William and John Cronin, and a sister, Mrs. William J. Ehrhart. Interment will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

SIX HOUSES IN DISTRICT LOOTED

Six houses in the eastern police district were entered by burglars last night. The police believe that the same thief broke into all the houses, as they are in the same neighborhood. The loot taken from the homes that the burglar entered is estimated at about $500.

J. H. Weger, 2607 Bartlett street, reported that his home was entered at a woman's fur, a watch and other jewelry valued at $300 was taken.

The home of C. E. Erickson, 2627 Bartlett street, was broken into. The thief while looting the home was frightened away and abandoned the property which he had gathered. Nothing was missing.

Jewelry and clothing valued at $200 was taken from the home of Mrs. Carey E. Douglass, 2601 Bartlett street.

Women's clothing valued at $50 was reported stolen from the home of Mrs. Primma Tripp, 6456 Tenor street.

The home of Morton R. Wagner, 5416 Tenor street, was ransacked, but nothing was taken. The home of Alfred J. Kline, 3015 Humboldt avenue, was entered and jewelry valued at $100 was taken.

Unidentified Man Succumbs on Street

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—While walking down Taylor street, near Sutter at three o'clock this morning an unidentified man fell dead. He was observed a few moments later by John Johnson, driver for the Cadillac Taxicab company, who notified the police.

The man was about 45 years old, poorly dressed with brown, even dark brown hair and about five feet four inches tall. He had a brown cap, brown coat, tan army shirt, gray trousers and tan shoes.

Taxicab Driver Is Shot By Police

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Joe Meehan, taxicab driver, was shot and seriously wounded by police detectives last night when he attempted to avoid arrest by speeding away from them in an automobile. They said they believed they had stolen.

The car was later identified by Miss Julie Tellisier as her property. Police surgeons said the recovery of Meehan was doubtful.

HARDING GOES TO FLORIDA IN TO FLORIDA, IN NEED OF OUTING

President Plans to Make the Cruise on Houseboat Down
Indian River.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—With Congress and its attendant worries off his hands virtually for the first time since he entered the White House, President Harding left Washington today for the first real vacation he has had in twelve months. Incidentally, his departure today marked his first absence from Washington since he returned from a flying trip to Marion, O., last July.

The strain of the 12-months' grind has told on the President. He appeared tired this morning as he prepared to join in the exodus of notables from the capital on the heels of the departing Congress. There were lines on his face that were not there a year ago, and there was little of that freshness and buoyancy in his bearing that was so noticeable two years ago today when he first took up the duties of the presidency.

The Harding train was nicknamed the "consul's special" when it pulled out of Union station. Aboard it were Mrs. Harding, now in the final stages of recovery from the nearly fatal illness that has kept her confined to the White House for six months, and Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, who has not been at his desk for some weeks. Some others in the party were:

Secretary of War and Mrs. Weeks, LeRoy Davis, D. D. Esker, chairman of the shipping board; Senators Hale and Frelinghuysen, Judge John Burton Payne, Jess Smith of Ohio, Dr. C. E. Sawyer, Secretary Christian and the usual secret service operatives and correspondents.

The President plans to spend most of his time on a cruise down the Halifax and Indian rivers on the houseboat of Edward B. McLean of Washington. He goes direct to Ormond.

MEMBERSHIP FOR LIFE PAID FOR BY CENTENARIAN

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Cornelius Cole, formerly United States senator from California, who was 100 years old, September 17, 1922, has given his check for $100 for a life membership in the Sons of the Revolution in the State of California.

S. F. Man Haunts Fire Ruins for 17 Years

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—When John McKenzie was taken to the Central emergency hospital yesterday it was learned that for the past 17 years he has been haunting the ruins left by the fire of 1906. As the marks of the disaster were removed one by one, McKenzie would move from place to place, until finally he sought shelter in an old boiler in a vacant lot on Beach street between Howard and Eolsom. His bedding caught fire Saturday night and his hands and feet were badly burned while he was extinguishing the flames. He was taken to the emergency hospital and it was there that his story was learned.

X-RAY SERVICE—GAS GIVEN

at a Cost That's Slight New Curtains for Old,

Those curtains, so dark and grimy with winter's dust and soot, will look dainty once more if you'll have them washed our improved way and finished on our wonderful curtain dryer. We'll rinse away all the soil in rain-soft water with suds of pure neutral soap. Then we'll dry them on a modern device which stretches your curtains evenly on all sides—without the use of pins or hooks—with every edge square and true, each tiny point in place.

And the cost is so little. Certainly it will not pay you to fuss with your curtains at home, to risk tearing and stretching them, only to find after all your bother that they will not hang right.

Send them to us today—we'll have them back just in a little while, ready for a summer's service. Phone us — our route representative will call.

PIANIST AND TWO MONKEYS STAR IN ORPHEUM BILL

Bert Howard's Work at Keys Wins the Crowd at Playhouse.

Bert Howard, "the man with the piano," shared honors with Max and Mortie, a couple of chimpanzees, at the Orpheum theater on the most uneventful collection of variety acts presented this season.

Howard is not a newcomer to Oakland vaudeville, but this season he has a new routine of comedy and music featuring his own arrangement of "The Morning in the Morning" in imitation of the old music box. He is most expert in his fingering and scored heavily.

As for the two anthropoids, they are beyond doubt the best trained animals to appear on the local stage for some time. Their comedy antics were amusing to young and old alike and the routine is well worked out. There are two comedy "chimpanzees" and a smaller animal with three men working the act. It went on last and held the crowd.

Sensational Valentines opened the program with an ordinary acrobatic act and were followed by Arthur and Morton Havel, who might have been more presentable by using make-up. There is a comedy patter act which builds up to a brisk and satisfactory finish.

Fred Whitfield and Marie Ireland were quietly efficient in "Umpireville," which features a comedy curtain and some flip patter material, and Mme. Dorée's

Theater

T. and D.

To the T. and D. theater comes for the current week "The Message of Emile Coue," the most talked of man in the world. He appears personally in this picture, the only one authorized by him. It is a pictorial lecture containing explanations and illustrations, showing the methods he uses in teaching people the way to self-mastery.

In addition to this is "The Little Church Around the Corner." The cast includes Claire Windsor, Kenneth Harlan, Robert Boynton, Pauline Starke, Walter Long, Alec Francis, Margaret Seddon and others.

Features of the program of a more humorous nature include a cartoon, "Chicken Dressing," and Louise Fazenda in howling rolicking reeds of laughter, "Fast of the Storm Country."

AUDITORIUM

"The Bat" will open an engagement of six days at the Oakland Auditorium Theater starting tomorrow night. The engagement will be concluded Sunday for last performance to be given Sunday night.

"The Bat" is the famous mystery play by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood. The story and plot of the play have been kept secret by the newspapers and the successful thousands of theatergoers who have seen "The Bat" during the three years of its presentation. As the result the surprise has not been spoiled for those who have the pleasure still in store for them of seeing the unusual play.

The play is a Wagnerian and Kemper production and has been staged with all of the skill known to these masters of the art of stagecraft. It will be acted at the Auditorium by a company of unusual excellence including Lizzie Evans, John Harrington, Josephine Morse, Graham Thomas, Herbert Delmore, Harry La Court, Joseph M. Holicky, George Wilson, John Macaulis and John Graham Spencer.

Operatic work was notable for its scenic effects if not for the operatic work of the eight members of the troupe. The act was marred by persistent stalling for applause.

This week's photoplay is "The Hands of Nara," featuring Clara Kimball Young and Elliot Dexter, and is up to standard.—W. S.

CHIMES

Today only, the Chimes Theater presents "The Little Church Around the Corner," also H. C. Witwer's famous Collier's Weekly stories featuring Reginald Denham in "Round 8" and "The Leather Pusher." Many special surprises are in store for the patrons of the Chimes, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Chimney will be seen in "Shadows." This is a story of a cruel fate that costs two people their happiness and shadows their lives.

Harmon Ford, Marguerite de la Motte, Walter Long, John Sainpaul and Buddy Messenger. Patsy News and Topics round out the balance of the program.

AMERICAN

Cecil B. DeMille's sensational production, "Adam's Rib," at the American theater, is nearing the end of its limited run. It will be followed by "My American Wife," Gloria Swanson's latest triumph, in which she is supported by Antonio Moreno.

Miss Swanson has the role of a typical American girl who becomes entangled in a series of South American adventures and realized the romances of her life when her pet Kentucky thoroughbred romps under the wings ahead of the pride of the native "horseflesh." How she finally manages to fight matters and win the love of one of the country's noblemen is told with a number of dramatic incidents. The beautiful Gloria wears her usual gorgeous costumes.

Charles Sweetser and his orchestra will feature the "Evolution of Dixie." Other film features include a comedy.

NEW PIEDMONT

Starting tomorrow for a three-day run at the New Piedmont Theater, "The Old Homestead," featuring Theodore Roberts, George Fawcett, Harrison Ford, T. Roy Barnes, Fred Ridgeway and other well-known players will be the featured attractions. The picture is based on the famous stage play of the same name which has been favorite for more than forty years, and the screen version is said to portray the play more thoroughly, more vividly than it has ever before been presented.

Roberts and his associates are seen to excellent advantage in the film. Neal Burns in "Fair Weather," a Christie comedy, will provide the lighter vein for this program, which will be shown for the last time Thursday evening.

Tonight "The Ghost Breaker," with Wallace Reid and Walter Heitz, closes the New Piedmont engagement.

NEW BROADWAY

The rush of thrilling action across sun-baked plains, the suspense in gripping scenes, the glow of romance in which he proves himself a splendid lover, are outstanding elements in Harry Carey's latest and greatest production, "Good Men and True," showing at the New Broadway theater for the last time today.

Harry Carey gives a superb performance in his latest vehicle adapted from the virile western story of Burena Manlove Rhodes. Most interesting of all, however, is the revelation of Harry Carey's ability as an actor. He inserts in "Good Men and True" delicious touches of comedy.

PANTAGES

Josie Heather, the slinging comedienne, is the latest vehicle adapted from the virile western story of Burena Manlove Rhodes. Most interesting of all, however, is the revelation of Harry Carey's ability as an actor. He inserts in "Good Men and True" delicious touches of comedy.

NEW LEADING MAN AT FILM TON SCORES IN 'TO THE LADIES'

Edward Everett Horton Proves Capability in Big Dramatic Comedy.

By WOOD SOANES

Kipling's couplet about the woman who never could know the world could understand with the title reversed is the keynote of "To the Ladies," which was given its initial presentation here last night and served to introduce a thoroughly capable leading man in the person of Edward Everett Horton at the Fulton theater.

"To the Ladies," the second offering of Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman, who are also responsible for "Dulcy" and "Merton of the Movies," is primarily a light comedy, and a very delectable one at that, but there is an undercurrent of seriousness that permeates the jest at all times.

Leonard Hamilton Beebe is an incompetent. From the very first moment when he searches diligently for the book that is right under his nose, it is evident that on his wife must depend whatever success he achieves in the business world. Like all incompetents, he does not realize it, but his wife does, if she will not admit it.

Beebe is discovered on the eve of his possible elevation to the important office of chief clerk in the Kincaid Piano company. He, rather than his wife, has been scheming for some time to secure the position. He invites the head of the house of Kincaid to his home and gets the bid to the annual banquet which he has sought for some time.

FUNNY SCENES FOLLOW.

There is a screamingly funny scene in which he rehearses a set speech he has adapted from a book of 600 after-dinner speeches. He has it letter perfect. The scene shifts to the banquet room. He is next to be called. He is so nervous that he speaks in a stammer. He is the chief-clerkship, is delivering

From this point on the action moves swiftly and certainly to the logical end. The Messrs. Connelly and Kaufman, in their latest production, have succeeded where they have failed through "Dulcy." The lines are sparkling, the situations are natural, funny and the play builds up carefully from the first speeches in the first act. There is no hesitating line, a dramatic halt—all of the tricks are glist in the Horton mill. He overlooks none and every one is sure fire.

EFFORTS APPRECIATED.

Added to that, he has poise, an intelligence, an easy, unassuming actor. He wears clothes like the young men in the advertisements and he has poise without posing. In a word, Horton's Leonard Hamilton Beebe was a perfect picture and his reward was in the continued raptures of his auditors and the smiles of applause.

With Horton was Katherine Van Buren, scoring as the business-like but de ar little wife, and giving an enjoyable performance. There was also the Chester Mullin, muddier extraordinary, of John Ivan. The balance of the company gave creditable performances, and the staging was up to standard. A novelty in stage mechanics was introduced in the banquet scene, played with the stage darkened and the auditorium lighted.

"To the Ladies" is in a class by itself as far as dramatic comedies are concerned.

FRANKLIN

"Garrison's Finish" with Jack Plof and Midge Bellamy, is the current attraction at the Franklin theater. Starting with an actual horse race at Belmont Park, New York City, the story thrillingly leads up to the climax. Romance, a touch of the comedy and plenty of thrills cause this feature to interest both sexes, and young and old alike.

Jack Pickford takes the part of the celebrated jockey, who is charged with "throwing" the race. Midge Bellamy, sweet, youthful and alluring, has the role that fits her to a nicety.

Others in the cast are Charles A. Stevenson, Clarence Burton and Ethel Grey Terry.

Next Saturday, "Kick In" is scheduled to be shown, with Bert Lytell and Betty Compson, at the Franklin Theater.

Man Who Stabbed Wife Evades Police

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—An alleged assassin, charged by the police with the murder of his wife, was today being sought by the police.

He was last seen in the city on the capture of Rolfe Amick, alleged by his wife, Mrs. Lupe Amick, 25 years old, to have twice stabbed her in the neck last night. The alleged murderous assault occurred in a room at 1833 Sutter street.

During a year and a half of their separation, Mrs. Amick told the police, he has been moving about from place to place, endeavoring to escape from her husband.

CURTAIN CALLS

"In last Sunday's issue," writes Joseph Schickel, who is appearing in "Peer Gynt" in New York, to Heywood Brown who in turn prints it in his column, "your advice to me reads: 'Go out and suffer.' I have. I read your article! And your ideas on 'Peer Gynt.'"

Which may be termed the retort courteous but Brown not to be outdone in generosity announces himself as follows:

"We are glad to have an opportunity of printing the note from Schickel because one of the discomforts of criticism is the feeling of the reviewer that he is biased away at people who can't bite back. Nor is the feeling altogether a selfish one.

"The critic often suffers from an inability to determine whether or not he has managed to hit the moving object. He shoots at clay pigeons and in the dark he criticizes an actor has given an incompetent performance he says so. It seems just as reasonable that the actor should have a chance to express an opinion about a review that seems to him inept.

"To be sure the player has with in his power a form of revenge far more devastating than any conceivable only, he may, and often does, assume the attitude, 'Of course I never read the notices.' But this bears somewhat too harshly upon the critic. It is far too cruel.

"We will grant that nothing much is settled when the critic writes of an actor, 'I think his work is bad' and the actor replies in effect, 'I think you are a blockhead.' Usually the truth lies between the two. It is even conceivable that both may be right.

"However, the exchange of courteous civilities is a waste of time. Acting actors who have greeted us with punctilious frigidity. In such cases we have never been able to determine whether their behavior indicated dislike or merely annoyance. On the issue has been set, the problem disappears."

The premier of "To the Ladies" in Oakland brings to mind a rather interesting story behind the first play written by the Kaufman-Connelly combination, namely "Dulcy." In "To the Ladies" the dramatists simply reversed conditions insofar as the principal characters were concerned. This week we have a quick-witted little wife smouldering out the ineptness of a conceited blockhead of a husband. In "Dulcy" it was just the opposite.

"Dulcy" was born in a daily column conducted by Franklin P. Adams along in 1914. Adams conceived a character of the bromidic type, usually a woman to whom a triteness and platitudes applied as the soul of wit. The two authors went Adams one better and made "Dulcy" into a play. They made her a bungling wife tangling up the affairs of a self-reliant husband.

Forty seasons ago today Mrs. John Torrence, known professionally as Madge Bellamy, died in San Francisco. She was 74. She had been on the stage for fifty years. Lotta is playing "Zip" on tour.

The reason for the play was Lynn Fontanne, a young English actress, the pupil of Ellen Terry. George C. Tyler needed a vehicle for her and commissioned Kaufman and Connelly to write it. So successful was "Dulcy," which has just completed a run started in August, 1929, that they reversed the tables and concocted "To the Ladies." More recently they did "Merton of the Movies."

George S. Kaufman is a native of Pittsburgh, where he met Marc Connelly in the public schools. He is now in the dramatic department of the New York Times and is widely known as a columnist. Connelly started in the newspaper game in Pittsburgh and later moved to New York where he is now reporting on the Morning Telegraph and contributing to the Times and to Life.

ENTRANCES

Leo Carrillo, having bowed out of "Mike Angelo," is now considering "Don Caesar de Bazar" and other plays associated with the character of the Three Guardsmen. "The Student of Salamanca," "A Child of Naples" and "Correlle."

It appears that the wife of Alexander Salvini, having the manuscripts of the plays because of his facial resemblance to the old actor and the fact that he can act.

Having been treated by "Dr." George M. Cohen, it appears that "Baroness von Right" has survived the operation and gives signs of having a healthy Broadway run after all.

The busy Mr. Cohen meanwhile is rehearsing Vincent Lawrence's play, "Private Property," which is scheduled for early presentation. The comedy was originally called "Live and Learn" and Wallace Redinger appeared in it for a time before "Captain Applejack" claimed him.

Richard Bennett, having failed to make his name as a player with "Who Got Slapped," has been taken over by the Chicago company of "The Fool." Bennett created the part in Los Angeles.

ROOM FOR RENT WINS CENTURY THEATER CROWD

Litling Music and Attractive Costumes; Old Favorites Welcomed.

Broad comedy, litling musical numbers and colorful costumes united in making "A Room for Rent" a popular attraction at the Century theater last night where Jack Russell scored as Patay Bolivar, the blundering body boy.

"A Room for Rent" is designed solely for laughing purposes and the proof that the patrons of the Century like their comedy lacking in subtlety was to be found in the laughter which was without cessation from the first scene to the final curtain.

The plot of the piece concerns the adventures of two young fellows, one a smart, slip individual, the other what is popularly known as a dumb-bell, in a new boarding house. Little Percy and Fred they overlook no chance to evade the boarding house laws in the interests of economy and all of their efforts make for fun.

Associated with Russell and Walter Spencer in the piece are Florence Spurrer, Evelyn Du Fresnoe, Arthur Van Slyke, Jackie Brunas, Ruby Lang and Billy DeVore. Miss Lang returns after a brief vacation and scored with "Song of Songs" in the musical program.

Other favorites who returned yesterday were the Knight sisters, Vera and Ora, who reintroduced themselves with "Barney Google," a musical trifle that won four encores and two bows. Millie Pedro also won attention with "I've Got Another Daddy." Russell and Miss Du Fresnoe stopped the show with "Day by Day"; and Jackie Brunas and the Century Quartet rounded out the program with two popular offerings.

The photoplay feature this week is Clara Morris in "A Pastboard Crown," a story of affairs on the other side of the footlights.—W. S.

STATE

Rodolph Valentino in his latest romantic love story, "All Night," is the attraction at the State. Livingstone's Symphonies band are seen in a different manner this week for they are dressed as a band and offer "The Village Orchestra." One of the feature numbers is a medley of old-time tunes. The vaudeville bill is topped by the Four Swiss Senior Bards offering a beautiful singing novelty, "Morning in the Alps." Mack and Lee present a witty song and talk skit, while Laconia and Bonomo appear in an amusing sketch entitled, "A Dog's Life." Erol and Billadoux in a whirlwind dancing act, and La Vigne and La Vigne in comedy aerobics, finish the show. This bill closes at the State Tuesday night to make way for the new bill Wednesday, which will be headed by the big Goldwyn photoplay, "Hungry Hearts."

Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

New Quaker Oats offer two great advantages over any other oats you can buy. First, a matchless flavor. They are flaked from queen grains only, so their flavor has won the world.

And now a quick-cooking style, perfected by our experts. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

Made of the same queen grains, but the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles. If you want Quick Quaker look for "Quick" on the label. You will get the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

A Good Thing—Don't Miss It

LEGISLATORS TO BE ENTERTAINED BY U. C. STUDENTS

Solons Will Inspect University March 16; Many Features Planned.

BERKELEY, March 5.—Practically the full membership of both branches of the state Legislature is expected to come to Berkeley on Friday, March 16, when the solons will be guests of the students of the University of California.

Preparations for the reception and entertainment of the lawmakers are being completed by the student body and alumni organization. The visit of the solons will be made coincident with the dedication of Henry Morse Stephens Union, the new student body building on the campus erected to perpetuate the memory of the well-known history professor whose death occurred several years ago. Engineers Day also will be celebrated on the same date, with a parade of students in the various engineering colleges and with a barbecue and dance in the evening.

TOUR AND BANQUET

The proposed visit of lawmakers is the second of its kind planned for the university, the legislative body coming to Berkeley two years ago. It is planned by college authorities in this manner to keep the lawmakers in close touch with the state seat of learning.

The program planned for the visiting lawmakers will include a tour of inspection on the campus, the dedication of Stephens Union with an alumni banquet in the evening, bringing the day's activities to a close. The banquet for which almost 900 invitations have gone out, will be held at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. Robert Sibley, executive head of the Alumni Association, is in charge of the banquet plans.

Entire plans for the day, except the alumni banquet at night, are in the hands of students. E. W. Engle is in charge of a special committee named to obtain the use of automobiles for transporting the solons about the campus, while J. S. Connolly heads the general committee in charge of arrangements.

Other members of the general committee are the Misses Eloise Seleck, Harriet Patterson and Zoe King, Emerson Dolliver, E. W. Engle, H. W. Kennedy, J. E. McAvoy, M. E. Van Sant, Merrill D. White, E. K. Elworthy and D. L. Russell.

SHAM BATTLE

For Engineers Day, the various engineering buildings will be thrown open to the general public for inspection. Students will escort visitors through the buildings. The program will open with a parade in the morning in which floats will be fitted up representative of the activities of the various colleges, while one of the features of the day will be a sham battle, being arranged for by chemistry students and the military department. A "machine gun" is to be attached to the ammunition is to be supplied by the government, according to the students in charge, and will be used in setting up a barrage. A smoke screen and a gas attack is being prepared under the direction of Prof. Joel R. Hildebrand, of the university, and General Pries of the Chemical Warfare Service.

Alameda Boy Scouts Plan Kite Contest

ALAMEDA, March 5.—The second annual kite day for the Alameda boy scouts has been set for Saturday, March 31, as announced by H. M. Platz, scout executive.

Prizes will be awarded to the scouts making the largest, smallest and the most original kites. The kite flying contest will be held at the foot of Garfield avenue near the Seacout cabin.

Last year more than 100 kites were flown and many artistic and novel ones were featured in the affair.

Two Injured in Alameda Accidents

ALAMEDA, March 5.—Two injured Alamedans were given first aid treatment over the week-end at the Emergency hospital by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus.

Eight-year-old Carmelo Algeris, 2510 Eagle avenue, broke his right arm when his foot slipped and he fell down a flight of stairs. Chief Dow, 2413 Central avenue, suffered a badly crushed left hand when someone accidentally pushed the clutch of his machine while he was doing repair work on it.

St. Paul's Church

Burglars ransacked the office and all the rooms in the St. Paul's Episcopal church at Bay Place and Montecito avenue. Rev. Alexander Allen, the rector of the church, discovered was missing.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It does no good to try to brush or wash "it" out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single dandruff and trace.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get Liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

BAKER, GOMPERS END LETTERS ON OPEN SHOP ISSUE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Continuing their discussion of labor principles, with special reference to the open shop, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and Samuel Gompers, labor leader, have written additional letters, which appeared in a recent issue of the New York Times, debating certain points raised in the earlier correspondence.

Significant paragraphs in the two letters follow:

From the Gompers letter: "I have no wish to say that every shop must be a union shop regardless of what may be the wishes of the workers themselves, but I do say that if it is the expressed wish of the workers to have a union and to have a union shop, that then there can be no denial of that wish without an exercise of power on the part of the employer which of itself must be construed as a repudiation of democratic methods of the democracy itself."

"You are no doubt aware that only a small proportion of the strikes of American workers are for the establishment of union shops or for the recognition of the union."

"American labor will, however, never cease to contend for the right to organize and for the right to carry organization to its logical conclusion, which means the union shop and a working relationship between the organizations of the workers and the employers. "If I do not like it, I do not like it, but I am unwilling to oppose all wars and for the same reason I am unwilling to say that strikes are wrong. Both are right and necessary and should be used when the cause of justice can be retained in no other way. "If you are inclined to question this, I ask you to consider what would be the status of the masses of our people one year hence if today all unions were to be wiped out of existence and resistance to injustice in industry was rendered impossible."

BAKER'S FINAL LETTER

In the final letter of the series Baker wrote in part: "On the one side we have capital, impersonally supplied and aggregated into masses of enormous power, but so sensitive and delicate that it is subject to shocks and destruction from a thousand new causes, some of which, like the progress of invention, fluctuations in international exchange and wars, revolutions and famines in remote parts of the world are wholly beyond the control or even the forecast of those engaged in industrial enterprises."

"On the other hand, we have no longer the worker as an individual, self-reliant producer, but we have 'the workers,' composed of men trained to specialized operations in an infinite variety of arts, performed to be trivial."

"Over these two groups and including them both stands the great public, which has specialized itself into all sorts of activities to carry on the business, preserve the health, promote the education and civilization and minister to the higher aesthetic and artistic needs of a modern society. This great public depends upon continuity of production in industry for its own existence, and it therefore has a vital interest in the establishment of conditions which will induce in the workers on the one hand and economical production on the other."

EMPLOYEE COMBINATION

"The right of employee combination for which you contend is apparently a right which is to know no limitation except the will of the workers themselves, and by this means you seek to establish an agency which the employer is bound to respect and to the higher ethical and artistic needs of a modern society. This great public depends upon continuity of production in industry for its own existence, and it therefore has a vital interest in the establishment of conditions which will induce in the workers on the one hand and economical production on the other."

"The whole theory of the closed union shop is to remove the essential element in modern industry, the competitive field by giving it the power to determine for itself its own interests, not to share and to impose them both upon employers and upon the public without any consideration of any other interest than its own."

ALAMEDA COUNTY GOVERNMENT BILL BEING DRAFTED

Legislative Delegation Does Not Favor Extreme Cuts or Salary Boosts.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, March 5.—A special committee of the Alameda county delegation, consisting of Assemblyman Frank Anderson, Senator F. M. Carr and Assemblyman E. H. Christian, is engaged in the drafting of a county government bill for Alameda county, which is to be submitted at an early date to a caucus of the delegation, and to be subsequently introduced at the legislature. It is understood that the delegation as a whole does not favor extreme reductions or increases in the salary of county officials. Eight more deputies will be recommended for the county recorder's office, it is said. Assemblyman Christian is advocating the reduction of all chief deputies' salaries from $3600 to $3000, and he would also reduce the salary of the chief clerk of the board of supervisors from $3000 to $2000. It is believed, however, that the majority of the members of the delegation do not share in Assemblyman Christian's views.

King Tut's Body Already Stolen, Declares Savant

PARIS, March 5.—(By International News Service).—Tut-Ankh-Amen's body had been removed from its 3000-year-old tomb in the Valley of the Kings, even before Lord Carnarvon's exploration party broke the seals on the inner chamber of the crypt, according to a statement printed by the L'Ouvre today.

An anonymous Egyptologist, who was described by the newspaper as "noted" was quoted as saying: "Lord Carnarvon's excuses for postponing investigation of the inner tomb were most flimsy. He said it was too hot to remove the mummy from the sarcophagus, but the queen of Belgium, who is a sensible woman as to dress, wore furs the day the inner chamber was opened for investigation. The real reason was that Tut-Ankh-Amen's coffin was empty. His body already had been removed. But Lord Carnarvon, after the publicity his expedition had received, could not afford to face failure."

Gloria Swanson's New Film Seen at American Theater

GLORIA SWANSON, who has a striking dramatic role in her latest production, "My American Wife."

Last Time Tonight of "Adam's Rib," "My American Wife" Starts Tomorrow.

The adventures of a beautiful Kentucky heiress in the romantic and colorful city of Buenos Aires form the basis for Gloria Swanson's latest picture, "My American Wife," which opens tomorrow at the American theater.

Besides giving Miss Swanson an opportunity to display a new wardrobe of distinctive and striking gowns, "My American Wife" is a story dedicated to the remarkable faculty of Americans for meeting emergencies in any part of the world.

Supporting Miss Swanson is Antonio Moreno, a star of the Latin screen, who plays the role of the new "sheik." He capably interprets the role of an Argentine aristocrat who finally wins the American girl's heart.

Other film features and an attractive concert by Owen Sweeten and his orchestra complete the program.—Advertisement.

PICTURE GAZING DON'T REAFFIRM SAY PROFESSORS

"Absurd," Say U. C. Instructors on Claim Made for Magazine Work.

BERKELEY, March 5.—That the girl on the magazine cover is making American girls more beautiful and like herself is branded as "absurd" and "ridiculous" by Professor F. W. Nahl, of the art department of the University of California, and by Professor Warner Brown of psychology.

Professor Brown, commenting on the statements of the three noted illustrators, Harrison Fisher, C. D. Williams and Clarence Underwood, says: "How absurd to think that by gazing on a picture one may become beautiful—though it is true that mannerisms and expressions are often acquired that way."

"If artists can transform the physical beauty of women—just think of the collar pictures which have appeared for the last twenty-five years. Judging by the ads, we should be a handsome race of men—and just look around," Professor Brown reasons.

Professor Nahl, expressing the opinion of an artist, says: "Present day famous illustrators who decorate the covers of magazines with types of beauties paint that face because it is already popular—it sells. The American girl is the same as ever, she believes in her own beauty and she is herself. She affects the magazine cover girls; they cannot affect her."

SHELL-SHOCKED VETERAN TRIES TO TAKE OWN LIFE

Penniless Man in Hospital After Rescue on Ferry and Train.

Relief organizations of the city are today investigating the case of Andrew Moss, 22-year-old war veteran and shell-shock victim, who is being held in the Emergency hospital following two unsuccessful attempts to end his life yesterday.

Penniless and unable to endure the tortures of shell shock, Moss attempted to end his life by springing from the upper deck of a ferryboat as it was leaving the San Francisco slip. He was seized by passengers, who placed him on the train for the Fourteenth and Franklin streets station. While on the train the youth made a second attempt at his life by jumping from the rear platform. This time he was saved by one of the trainmen, and later turned over to the hospital.

Moss enlisted in the Canadian army when 17 years old, and served twelve months at the front before being sent home.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under the eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dark eyes—no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you twenty per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 50c—Advertisement.

GAINED 15 POUNDS ON TANLAC IN 73RD YEAR

Prominent Los Angeles Contractor Declares Famous Medicine Ended Suffering from Indigestion, Shortness of Breath and Loss of Weight and Strength.

People of advanced age who suffer from indigestion, poor appetite, aches and pains and a feeling of general lassitude are apt to think their condition all due to declining years when, in truth, their ailments are no different from the troubles suffered by thousands of younger people and will just as readily yield to the right treatment.

This fact has been substantiated by the following from W. M. Smith, 218 S. Stafford Ave., Huntington Park, Los Angeles, Cal., well-known contractor and builder, who writes:

"I am now rounding out my 73rd year, but I feel as young as I did when I was 25 years old. I feel as if I have gained 15 pounds on Tanlac in 73rd year."

DESERT MYSTERY CAUSES SEARCH FOR SURVIVORS

Couple Sought After Discovery of Dress and Bones of Missing Woman.

RIVERSIDE, March 5.—A manilla and a dress, believed to have belonged to Mrs. A. Mardina, 70 years old, of El Paso, Texas, and what were said to be leg bones, found on the desert between Blythe and Mecca, in Riverside county, caused officers to begin a search for her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Crescencio Estanza, thought to be somewhere in Orange county.

After the clothing and bones, together with a newspaper bearing the date of December 22, last, were found, officers recalled that the disappearance of Mrs. Mardina had been reported to a deputy sheriff at Desert Center by her son-in-law last December, and they thought it probable the discoveries offered a partial explanation.

According to the report credited to Estanza, an automobile stage in which he, his wife and her mother were traveling from El Paso to Los Angeles broke down in the desert and it was necessary to camp there over night. The next morning, he reported, Mrs. Mardina could not be found. Estanza and his wife went on to Los Angeles and are said to be in Orange county.

K. OF C. PLEDGES ARE READ IN CHURCH PULPIT

DES MOINES, Ia., March 5.—Pledges taken by candidates for the Knights of Columbus fraternal order in the St. Ignace church were read from the pulpit of the Capital Hill Church of Christ here last night by Frank Comfort, district deputy of the Catholic organization, in answer to the challenge of N. H. Carpenter, who in his sermon last Sunday night, told "Why I am a member of the Ku Klux Klan."

Reading of the obligation created no thrills for the crowd which jammed the church. Candidates for the Knights of Columbus pledge themselves to support the Constitution of the United States, to uphold the integrity of the ballot, never to bring politics into the organization, and never to bring disgrace upon the Catholic church or the order.

Whisky Reaches Price of $100 for A Tablespoonful

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 5.—One hundred dollars was the price paid in police court here today for a tablespoonful of whisky, Peter Maladie, proprietor of a North Side hotel, footed the bill.

When a woman complained that Maladie was selling liquor to her husband, police raided his establishment. They found only a tablespoonful of whisky in a broken bottle. The evidence was produced in police court. Maladie denied the charge but Magistrate B. L. Succop fined him $100 with the option of serving thirty days in jail.

Will We Turn Our Back on Tobacky?

Spring Brings Changes in Styles of Chewing Tobacco

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

Spring is here! We know because every shop window displays the latest in the new spring styles. When spring rolls around it has its effect on all nature. Just so with the styles. There are always new styles in everything.

For instance—there are the styles in plugs. No, not the best of burden nor yet your Easter top, but the chewing tobacco chewing tobacco now. Yes, really.

Didja know there were styles aplenty in common everyday chewing tobacco? Well, there are. The painstaking tobacco clerk will draw over the counter, for your approval, designs in check, plaid, polka-dot, silver trimmed, thick or thin twist or fine weave in new shades of snuff-brown, all to be chewed for any price from ten cents to a dollar per plug.

Whoever chews tobacco any more?

Time was when the only plug-chewing in our ken was accomplished by Grandpa Heck and his cohorts about the postoffice base-burger back home and the old foundry dray-horse that had to have her chew of Star plug every morning. But nowadays tobacco dealers sell "chewing tobacco" to all types of men. Trade journals say the demand for plug tobacco is falling off. Then why these facts?

Employees in factories and foundries, on street cars and on the police force may not smoke on duty. Chewing tobacco is the substitute. The laborer who is not allowed to smoke at work enjoys his plug. "He must have it," says a local tobacco merchant.

Even the salesman behind the cigar counter may not smoke. It would not be the thing when worn entered to purchase their gold-tipped ones, to be cluttering up the place with horrid cigar smoke. So they frequently indulge in a tasty morsel of plug. So I have it confidentially.

Men buy their plug daily. It's no cheaper by the quantity and it keeps fresher at the store. It's five cents more a plug this year, too.

And now along comes Senator Abben, of Lyons, Iowa, introducing a bill to levy a tax on "chewing tobacco," the amount of the tax according to the retail prices of the articles sold. If your plug costs from ten to fifteen cents there will be a tax of one cent on it if the bill becomes a law.

In Utah, where smoking is a crime by law, it looks like an eventual boom in the chewing tobacco trade. The day before the birthday anniversary of George Washington, the man who made America free, nine otherwise law-abiding citizens were arrested for smoking cigars in the grill room of a Salt Lake City hotel. It is predicted they will seek to cultivate the chewing tobacco habit and make up their minds to expect-to-rate as gentlemen from now on.

Tobacco, however, still continues to be grown. According to the department of agriculture 80,000 growers in the states of North and South Carolina and Virginia alone have delivered for distribution 117,321,193 pounds of tobacco. At present over one billion pounds of leaf tobacco is held on hand by manufacturers and dealers in the United States, but what per cent of this supply will be chewed remains to be seen.

Even a recently purchased ranch in our own state of California will soon be fragrant with tobacco, for 3000 acres near San Diego are being prepared for the plant.

"You can't tell from the appearance of a man," says an Oakland tobacco dealer who once lived in New York, "what kind of tobacco he'll buy when he walks up to the counter. The swell dressed man may buy a cut of cheap plug. Some who don't wear swell clothes buy the most expensive cigars. So, it doesn't pay to shove out the cigars till you find out what the man wants."

"It was different in New York. Everybody's well dressed there, but here you have to learn character, not from the clothes, but from the face."

And then he tipped it off that in this day and age an unsuspecting wife might take for granted the little mound in her husband's cheek to be a portion of mere chewing gum when all the time he is enjoying the daily delicacy of molasses based "chewing tobacco."

Perhaps the demand is not less after all, but it's the styles have changed with the coming of spring.

FIVE PERSONS ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Five persons, one of whom will probably die, are suffering from injuries today as a result of automobile accidents yesterday.

Mrs. Louis Sturka, wife of a Gilroy rancher, is suffering from a fractured skull, which probably will prove fatal, and Mrs. Mainero is severely cut and bruised as a result of being struck down by an unidentified motorist, who speeded away, as they were crossing Monterey street in Gilroy last night.

When her husband took the turn too sharply at Fifty-second avenue and East Fourteenth street, and failed to tell his wife of his intention, Mrs. May McCollum, 90 Washington street, was thrown out of the machine and severely cut and bruised. McCollum took his wife to the receiving hospital, where she was treated.

William White, 38 Vernon street, and Adolph Biby, 726 East Sixteenth, both aged 10, were cut and bruised yesterday when their motor car was struck by an automobile driven by J. Usoda, a Japanese, 2919 Twenty-third street, at Fourth avenue and East Eleventh street. Despite the fact that his automobile overturned, when he tried to avoid striking the coasters, the Japanese was uninjured. The boys were taken to the hospital by Frank Pattile, 747 Alcatraz avenue.

Japan Urged to Instruct People in Art of War

By DUKE N. PARRY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, March 5.—Declaring that education of the people in the art of war is a vital necessity to Japan, Kenkichi Oshima, former Minister of War, and a member of the House of Peers, speaking in that body, today, criticized as "the height of folly" the cutting of armaments as a means of insuring peace.

It is a valuable lesson to Japan," he declared, "the way France, England and America are attending to military education."

Premier Kato, who ardently favors carrying out the terms of the arms conference treaties to the letter, toward whom Oshima's remarks were directed, agreed in reply to the necessity of the entire nation having military training but expressed the belief that plans thus far presented were unsatisfactory.

Oshima then criticized the proposed plans of the Kato ministry for leaving Manchuria, pointing to the disturbed condition and the anachronistic attitude of China.

BILL WILL MAKE GERMAN'S SETTLE 1906 FIRE LOSSES

Measure to Hold Up Return of Property Until Claims Are Settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—German insurance companies that "welched" after the fire of 1906 may be made to pay their losses in full to local property owners, after 17 years delay, as the result of pressure that is to be exerted upon them through the United States Senate's latest property bill, according to advices received from Washington today.

The administration bill which releases from the custody of the alien property custodian 93 per cent of the individual German properties seized during the war, provides that none of the German insurance companies that failed to pay their losses in the San Francisco fire shall receive any of the benefits of the alien property return bill until it has satisfactorily settled the claims of its policy holders in California. This bill has been signed by President Harding.

"American claims against Germany are now being adjudicated by the inter-claims commission sitting in Washington," Allen Property Custodian Thomas V. Miller is quoted as stating today. "At the same time this administration makes no secret of the fact that the condonation of private property to pay national debts is not approved."

The bill as signed by President Harding provides for the return of all alien property trusts of $10,000 and under, excepting those that are to be retained to protect American claims against Germany. "Other features of the bill," said Miller in a statement issued today, "bar fugitives from justice from receiving any property. This means that Bergdall and others like him must return and take their punishment, or relinquish their money, which is now held by the custodian."

Chief Led From One Fire to Another

BERKELEY, March 5.—As Fire Chief G. Sydney Rose and his assistant William Heald, were preparing to leave a house on the home of Mrs. G. W. Haight, 2433 Haight street, yesterday afternoon, two young women approached and led them to 2419 Durant avenue, where they found in a room a college looking house conducted by Mrs. L. O. Tyler. About $400 damage was done to the boarding house and $50 to the Haight residence. Both were roof blazing caused by sparks from chimneys.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

WORLD RADIO FOR THE ARGENTINE

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 1.—The big, high power wireless station at Monte Grande, near Buenos Aires, the first South American station in the international commercial radio system, is almost completed, and it is announced that service will begin in June or July next. It will place Argentina in direct wireless communication with the United States, for the first time, as well as with Europe. Radio engineers say there are two strange static "dead areas," one near the equator off Brazil, and one in the South Atlantic, which only a station equipped like that at Monte Grande can overcome.

The new station has been built entirely with American materials. All that remains unfinished are the control lines from Monte Grande into the city, a distance of twenty-four kilometers, which will be placed in underground conduits leading to the company's office in the business center.

How Do You Feel Today?

THE PREVENTION OF GOTTER—AN OAKLAND PROBLEM.

"Simple gotter is the easiest known disease to prevent." This statement of Dr. David Marline's, specialist in the study of gotter, and its increasing prevalence in Oakland and vicinity should make the subject one which challenges the interest of all.

Gottter is dependent upon the excessive activity and enlargement of the thyroid gland. This gland on each side of the windpipe. It produces a substance, the presence of which in the blood-stream is a necessary condition for normal growth and functions of almost all of the tissues of the body. If the secretion is not present in proper amounts, derangement of nutrition, the nervous system, respiration and other vital activities are involved.

Gottter is more prevalent in some regions than in others, but may develop sporadically in any locality. The Alpine mountain region of southern Europe, certain sections of the Himalayas and of the Andes in South America have been recognized for years as gotter districts. In this country the region of the Great Lakes and the Pacific Coast district, especially the "Pacific Northwest," are centers where gotter incidence is very high.

Gottter occurs more often among girls than in boys. It makes its appearance frequently in adolescence following a long severe illness or the result of some chronic infection. It has been noted in connection with tuberculosis and febrile conditions such as pneumonia and typhoid.

The immediate cause of gotter is now accepted to be the lack of iodine in the system, hence its prevention involves the supplying of this deficiency. If this is supplied at the proper time and in right amounts gotter will not develop. After its occurrence it treated promptly and properly it will disappear in most cases.

Many authorities are now advocating gotter prevention as a public health measure. This has been done among adolescent girls in several large school systems in the Great Lake district. The preventive methods were declared to be "easily applied and thoroughly practical." The problem is forcing itself upon us here insistently and continuously and is one which we must be prepared to meet.

NOTE: Questions on health problems may be sent to the Health Editor, Oakland TRIBUNE, but questions on personal medication cannot be answered.

MICHELL COMING BACK.

According to a pretty tale told by a local newspaper, Manager Frank Chance of the Boston Red Sox has agreed to send Johnny Mitchell back to the Vernon Club, in case the shortstop doesn't stick with Boston. Chance and the writer of the story seem to have forgotten the rule of the Coast League against taking players from the majors.

COMMUNITY CHEST NEEDS 2 SLOGANS

Prizes Offered For Poster Worded Also For Appeal To Raise Fund For Cause of Charity Organizations

Two slogans are sought for the Oakland Community Chest campaign, according to announcement by Annie Florence Brown, chairman of the poster and slogan committee.

Last week a prize of $50 was offered for the best poster and slogan carrying the message of the Community Chest. Following this announcement many people wrote into headquarters explaining that they felt they had the ability to coin a slogan but that they were barred from entering because they lacked ability as artists. In order to give this portion of the public an opportunity to send in a slogan, the second contest was arranged. The prize for this has been fixed at $25. The slogans must be under five words and should be sent to the Community Chest headquarters, 1761 Franklin street, before Tuesday, March 13.

"So many people have telephoned to me at my home concerning the facts and the conditions of the competition that I feel they should be given additional publicity," explained Miss Brown yesterday. "The size of the poster should be 14 by 22 inches and vertical and the material should be cardboard, pulp board or any stiff board that can be hung well for exhibition."

"Slogans should not consist of more than five words (the shorter the better). No mark of identification should appear on the face of the poster. A sealed envelope should be pasted on the back containing the name and address of the designer. Posters and slogans must be delivered before 5 o'clock at the Community Chest headquarters, Tuesday, March 13."

Organization of the Speakers' Committee was effected yesterday with Joseph J. Rosborough, chairman, and Mrs. Newton A. Koser, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, David D. Oliphant and Abe P. Leach as members. A telephone call to Lakeside 8160, it is explained, is all that is necessary to obtain the services of a speaker.

Frederick O'Brien Produces New Story of Mystic South Sea Isles

Tribune Will Publish Serially Enchanting Tale of Life in Paumotu.

Frederick O'Brien, author of varied works on the South Seas, has come to the fore once again with a story redolent of coral reefs, atolls, palm trees, dusky belles, beach combers, pearl fishers, and the other attributes of the zephyr-kissed isles.

This latest story by O'Brien, "Atolls of the Sun," will appear in serial form in the Oakland TRIBUNE next Sunday. It deals with life in the Paumotu Archipelago, which forms part of the French colonial empire. O'Brien tells, in the fascinating style of which he has already shown himself a master in his previous works, "White Shadows in the South Seas" and "Mystic Isles of the South Seas," which were also published serially in the TRIBUNE, how he traveled through the Archipelago on a small inter-island vessel, a former French gunboat, commanded by a typical Mediterranean sailor, and how he visited the islands, resided on some of them and lived as "do the Paumotus."

From the very first words, "Atolls of the Sun" has the reader's interest, as O'Brien relates how he set sail from Tahiti for what the old French travelers designated as "Les Iles Dangereuses" — the dangerous isles — but which have been pronounced by subsequent white men to constitute a little paradise on earth, safely tucked away from the world.

ATOLLS' PARADISE. Here is how O'Brien defines just what an "atoll" is: "An atoll is to an island as a comet to a star—a freak or sport in the garden of the sea gods. It was as if the designer had planned to set up, in the thousand miles of ocean through which the Dangerous Islands stretched, a whimsical cluster of shallower salt lakes, and so had hidden trillions of tiny lagoons to enclose them. For after all, an atoll is but a lagoon surrounded by a reef of coral, or rather two reefs, for in the plan of the architect, there was built a second reef for every atoll, and this outer barrier was sunken, as the one through which we had come, but yet took the brunt of the waves, and prevented them from washing away and destroying the inner and habitable reef."

O'Brien's latest contribution to the literature of the South Seas tells entertainingly of the life of the natives, of the beauty of the Paumotu women, of the white men who come from the ends of the earth to seek the women and who, in the meantime, as the trader, live for the rest of their lives in "dolce far niente" on the palm fringed shores of the "dangerous isles"—dangerous, undoubtedly, to the Nordic races for the fair sirens that dwell there!

DRAMATIC NOTE. A strong dramatic note is struck as the writer describes how the sea, rising from time to time over the flat atolls, sweeps houses and palm forests away, filling the lagoons with corpses and bringing woe and desolation to these bits of paradise.

on earth. O'Brien also tells of Tabuism in these islands, of the work of the numerous missions, of the superstitions of the natives, and of the strange characters from the ends of the earth—broken wreckage on the sea of life—one meets with in this corner of the Pacific. The book is well illustrated with numerous photographs, all of which will be reproduced in the TRIBUNE serials.

Co-eds as Models And Clerks to Raise "Y" Fund

BERKELEY, March 5.—As models for sports attire at a big Oakland shop and as clerks at a Berkeley drug store, co-eds will endeavor to raise $3000 for the University of California. Y. W. C. A.

Tomorrow four co-eds will act as models and four others as hostesses at the opening of a new "sports lane" of the H. C. Capwell Company in Oakland. For every visitor who signs the guest book at the new department the college made will receive ten cents for the college "Y."

On Saturday for the second time co-eds will take over at the drug store at the corner of College avenue and Derby street for the entire day, the manager, J. T. Scow, donating all profits of the day to the University Y. W. C. A. Last year a similar plan was carried out. The $3000 sought for the University "Y" as the allotment set aside for the campus to raise. The drive will be conducted entirely on the campus and there will be no solicitation from outside sources as the remainder of the money needed to support the "Y" will be raised in Berkeley's community chest drive to be held in April.

FIRE ENGINE CRASH LEADS TO DEVICE

Following Mishap Caused by Reckless Auto and Car Drivers Plans Are Made for a Downtown Buzzer

Following yesterday's accident at Fourteenth and Broadway, where a northbound street car forced a fire engine to bounce off a telephone pole and strike another car while going to a fire, Commissioner Frank Colbourne asserted this morning that a downtown fire buzzer will be sounded shortly, and a squad of police will be on hand to round up those vehicles which fail to give attention to fire signals.

Colbourne says that yesterday's near-accident was "the last straw." In yesterday's episode, a fire engine was traveling at high speed eastward along Fourteenth from the city hall and toward Broadway. A street car, which is said to have given no attention whatever to buzzers and fire bells, started north on Broadway across Fourteenth. The fire engine swerved in front of the street car, glanced off a post in front of the Central National Bank, threw off a fireman who struck a pedestrian, and came to a halt just as it struck a small car and smashed the lamps and radiator.

TWO PERSONS INJURED. Miss Allen Maher, 1515 Alameda street, employed in the municipal service bureau, was riding in the automobile, which was driven by her brother, J. P. Maher. She was cut on the face and hands from flying glass. When the fire engine was changing at the corner, John Higgins, a fireman, jumped down from the apparatus and struck Joseph Gomez, 2835 Union street, knocking him to the sidewalk. Gomez was cut and bruised.

"Even if the street car motor-man failed to hear the buzzers and bells," says Colbourne, "the fact remained that he sailed across Fourteenth and Broadway without looking either to right or left. Had he looked around, he certainly could have seen the fire engine rushing toward him."

SAFETY LAWS VIOLATED. "I understand that several automobiles also kept going. It being Sunday, there was no traffic policeman; but that does not excuse these flagrant violations of the safety laws."

"If something is not done, I fear we will have an accident that will make us all sorry. We cannot afford it. I think that we need a device to make the fire engines more conspicuous to the public, and we will keep down the chance for an accident."

"From now on we are going to arrest those who keep moving after the fire buzzers and bells warn them to stop and keep out of the road."

SHORTAGE IN FARM LABOR PREDICTED

Cherry Growers Add Their Testimony to Opposition Against Proposed Increase in Express Line Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—That there is a shortage of labor in California and that its cost, therefore, will be higher in the orchards and farms this year than last, was the burden of testimony received today before the Interstate Commerce commission. Examiner C. R. Seal of the commission and Examiner J. C. Harriman of the Railroad commission again presided over the session called in connection with a petition of the American Railway Express to increase rates.

W. J. Clements, of Sunnyvale, a large shipper of cherries, told of the scarcity of labor. He said the cost of help was higher in 1922 than in 1921 and promises to advance again this year. Clements was one of a number of witnesses from California's great cherry industry.

Fred H. Buck, cherry producer, with large orchards at Vacaville and Lodi shipping 15,000 boxes annually, 60 per cent of which he said moved eastward, was first called to the stand. He testified that the cost of the proposed increased rates would be to cause most of the shippers to send their cherries East by freight.

"Any increase cannot be passed on to the consumer but must be paid by the grower and shipper. The reason for this is that California cherries are sold at auction in the Eastern market and would not bring a higher price, even though it cost more to get them there," he said.

He said that an increase in rates would also mean that less cherries would go to New York, more being used at Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis. Ninety per cent of the Royal Ann variety were used by California canneries. Testifying in a similar vein were F. B. McKeel, Jr., of Vacaville, and Henry G. Stelling, of Sunnyvale.

Company Closes Niles Canyon to Picnic Parties

Precautions Taken to Guard Water While Conduits Are Being Laid

Temporary closing of Niles Canyon to picnickers has been announced by the Spring Valley Water company, because, officials explain, the canyon is to be used for the transmission of the water supply between the tunnel dam and the Niles dam while conduits are being installed.

"In the circumstances, extraordinary precautions must be taken to safeguard the purity of the supply," asserted Mr. E. J. Lawrence, superintendent of the Spring Valley Water company, "and therefore the company will prohibit all camping and picnicking on its properties during the year 1923, on such part of 1923 as it will take to finish the work."

"Provisions for the comfort of picnickers will be resumed when the present emergency ceases. The company plans to erect open-air fire-places for the use of picnickers, and to improve facilities that already have been installed."

Department Heads Consider Problems

ALAMEDA, March 5.—Civic problems affecting the city of Alameda were considered jointly today by the head of all departments of the city government at a meeting held in a Park street cafe.

The California State Poultry Association, Inc. held its regular quarterly membership meeting, followed by a meeting of the new board of directors in the Roof Garden of the Oakland TRIBUNE, Saturday night. There were about 40 members present. The meeting was called to order by President J. C. Williams of Fullerton, Cal. Among those present from out of the county, were J. C. Williams, of Fullerton; F. J. Feltner of Compton, Mr. Roberts of Los Angeles, George Camacho of Sacramento, A. J. Coe of Lodi, Ernest Ward of San Jose, W. J. Jackson, of San Mateo.

It was decided to hold the next year's show in the Oakland Municipal Auditorium December 5 to 11 inclusive, jointly with the California Pigeon Club. It was also decided to bring out Judge James

The new board of directors instituted were J. C. Williams, P. J. Pettier and John D. Roberts of Southern California, Richard Watson of Fresno; A. J. Coe of Lodi; George Cameron of Sacramento; Ernest Ward of San Jose, W. J. Jackson of San Francisco, James Whyta, V. H. Grimsley and G. W. Wittenberg of Oakland. The elected officers of the Club were J. C. Williams, president; W. J. Jackson, first vice-president; P. J. Peltier, second vice-president; O. B. Hunt, secretary. The show

Committee for next year's show are W. J. Jackson, chairman; V. H. Grimsley, O. E. Hunt and G. W. Wittenberg.

DEVELOPERS WELKS TO ERECT BAKER MEMORIAL

Although the grave of Col. Edward Dickinson Baker has lain in an unfrequented quarter of the Laurel Hill cemetery in San Francisco for sixty-two years, his patriotism has kept his name alive and now his memory is to be perpetuated in a memorial commensurate with his fame, to be erected probably in Golden Gate

The movement for the establishment of the memorial in honor of the great westerner was begun to-day by the Oakland Lodge of Elks under the direction of Clinton G. Lodge, chairman of the Americanization committee of the order.

J. Edgar Masters, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, has approved a plan to call all the Elks in California to aid in the plan.

Baker is remembered by the people of California as the man who was responsible more than anyone else for having kept the state true to the spirit of the Union in the days preceding the Civil War, when he stumped the state in the cause of the Union.

He served as a colonel in the Mexican War, commanding a brigade in the battle of Cerro Gordo. In 1851 he came to California and Subsequently removed to Oregon, which state he represented in the United States Senate. He resigned in order to enter the army. He was appointed a major-general of volunteers in the Union army and was killed while leading a charge at Balls Bluff, October 21, 1861.

Talk on Agriculture
HAYWARD, March 5.—The value of experimental agriculture, and what it has accomplished in developing more productive farming and in controlling animal and plant pests and diseases was the subject of a talk given today by Dr. C. M. Haring, director of agricultural experiment station for the University of California, before members of the Hayward Rotary club. The club met in the rooms of the Hayward Civic League of Women Voters on Main street. Dr. J. R. Beach, of the poultry division of the university, was also guest of the club. The meeting was presided over by A. J. Garin, president of the Alameda County Farm Bureau.

Prays for Guilt Ballot, Charge

Declaring that Mrs. Ella Atwater, a juror in the trial of Thomas Walsh and John Dorney, fell to her knees and prayed that another ballot might be

The court was told that the jurors had agreed upon their verdict by trading votes, finding Walsh guilty and disagreeing on Dorney. The attorney stated that this was the last case that this was the only manner in which a verdict against Walsh could be secured after many hours of argument, and that certain of the jurors had stated to him that they voted for the conviction of Walsh after making this trade, although they believed him to be innocent.

The Tails of Killing
SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. — Harry Wilkens again became controversial today when, he described the brutal shooting of his wife, Anna, a holdup on Nineteenth avenue a Decoration night. He is accused of conspiracy to kill Mrs. Wilkens and was on the stand in a few minutes.

"JINGLE BELLS, JINGLE ALL THE WAY!"—Here is Max Horwinski, Oakland business man, trying his hand at driving a sleigh, during the Elks' outing at Reno. His passenger is Miss Helen Mills.

WHEN THE SLEIGH TIPPED OVER—Accidents will happen, but it's more fun when the spill is on soft ground, as this one was. Picture shows party of Oakland Elks on a sleigh ride during their recent trip to Reno.

BILL VS. STILL—Billy Sunday is here shown with the ruins of the thirty stills he smashed at Knoxville, Tenn., in the course of his revival meetings. His meetings were attended by thousands of mountain and city dwellers in that section. —Keystone Photo.

ESKIMO PIE!—Dr. Fred A. Batkin, member of the Oakland Elks' excursion party to Reno is here shown taking a bite out of the original Eskimo pie.

STEP UP, PLEASE, and meet Countess Ellen Douglas of Stockholm, daughter of Count Ludwig Douglas, former Minister of Foreign Affairs for Sweden, who arrived in New York on the S. S. Thuringia. The Countess, who traveled here with Miss Elsa Brandstrom, known as the "Angel of Siberia," will remain in this country for four months. —Keystone Photo.

Namesake of San Leandro Is Launched

VENTILATING IMPROVED.
The cabins are provided with a ventilating system of the latest type, by means of which all sections of the vessel will be insured a complete change of air every few minutes. The interior of the main and saloon decks is finished in white cedar, colored to soften reflected lights. Timmings, cornices and sills below all windows are of mahogany.

The restaurant, which will seat eighty persons, is equipped with electrically operated steam tables and other equipment necessary for quick and efficient service. The accommodations for the comfort and convenience of passengers include a women's rest room, equipped with lounge, chairs and mirrors.

RENEW THE EDGE.
To sharpen shears or scissors, get a piece of fine sandpaper and cut with the dull scissors or shears. It will give them a good edge.

Reports Tell How Boys Fall Behind Fair Sex in Scholarship.

Girls make better students than boys, according to proof furnished in the scholarship reports of the various high schools of the city. According to reports submitted to the superintendent of schools, every high school tells the same story.

At Technical, the honor roll contains the names of 105 boys and 152 girls. The honor roll of Oakland High school contains 61 boys and 85 girls. At Fremont the score is 121 boys and 162 girls. At University High school there are 16 boy honor students and 52 girls.

With all this progress mentioned for girls, the school department received notice that Vocational High school, devoted mainly to manual training, has just purchased a $333 machine from student funds for the grinding of tools. Among the jobs now being turned out by Vocational students are a welding transformer, wireless sending sets, a 600-volt generator, a single-circuit receiving set, ammeter switches, and laminations for one-sixteenth horsepower engines. These jobs, it is asserted, are among the most specialized tasks ever attempted by the high school.

Berkeley Clubwoman To Be Buried Tuesday

BERKELEY, March 5.—Last rites will be said at 11 o'clock to- morrow morning at All Souls' church for Mrs. Grace T. Pack, wife of John W. Pack, 1525 Spruce street, whose death occurred at a local sanitarium following a short illness. Mrs. Pack was born in New York and had resided in Berkeley 30 years. She was a member of the Hillside club and an active worker in the guild of All Souls' church. Surviving her, besides her husband, are four chil- dren: Robert W. Pack of Texas; Miss Margherita Pack of Detroit; Mrs. Grace L. Blackhall of Scot- land and Mrs. Elizabeth W. White- hurst of Berkeley.

Among the jobs now being turned out by Vocational students are a welding transformer, wireless sending sets, a 600-volt generator, a single-circuit receiving set, ammeter switches, and laminations for one-sixteenth horsepower engines. These jobs, it is asserted, are among the most specialized tasks ever attempted by the high school.

Berkeley Clubwoman To Be Buried Tuesday

BERKELEY, March 5.—Last rites will be said at 11 o'clock to- morrow morning at All Souls' church for Mrs. Grace T. Pack, wife of John W. Pack, 1525 Spruce street, whose death occurred at a local sanitarium following a short illness. Mrs. Pack was born in New York and had resided in Berkeley 30 years. She was a member of the Hillside club and an active worker in the guild of All Souls' church. Surviving her, besides her husband, are four chil- dren: Robert W. Pack of Texas; Miss Margherita Pack of Detroit; Mrs. Grace L. Blackhall of Scot- land and Mrs. Elizabeth W. White- hurst of Berkeley.

A BREAKFAST CEREAL FOR CHILDREN ON THE GO AND GROW

to them.

On the go every minute from sun- up to go-to-bed! Think of all the energy your youngsters "burn up" in the course of the day! Think of all the energy they need to "store up" power for tomorrow—and all the tomorrows to come!

Germea is a delicious breakfast cereal made to order for rollick- ing, frolicking youngsters. For it is power-food. It contains the germ, the very life of the wheat. It helps to renew and rebuild. Besides—it is so concentrated that a cupful makes a breakfast for a family of six. Your grocer has it!

Ask your grocer also for Encore Pancake Flour and other members of the Sperry (Red Package) Cereal Family.
